Bluermutt

A 26 year old Barcelona based computer-music maker in love with digital noises and beats. His previous works have appeared on Nexsound, Insubordination, Vague Terrain & the Audiobulb Root of Sine project.

Uncertain Data Packed in Red Boxes

Bluermutt takes a foray into the world of minimal sound design and composition. Clear and clean tones are explored and unpacked into a series of beautiful abstract expressions. Bluermutt describes his creative process as...

With years of practice I created some kind of a creative environment where I like to move and make things happen. I usually start with many raw ideas and sketches which evolve as I work on the ones I prefer. The code to my creative process would look like:

1. act
2. collect the results of the action
3. select between the results
4. back to point 1
